

Redirecting Children's Behavior™: Become a Certified Instructor!

Instructor Training Course
June 4 - 6, 2010

If you have taken the Redirecting Children's Behavior™ Course, you personally know the difference it can make in your life, your relationships and in the "weather" at home. Parents and educators who have taken the course know the results they experience – more cooperation, more calm and more connections. This is your invitation to make that difference in the lives of families in your community.

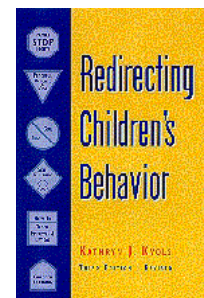

The three-day Redirecting Children's Behavior™ Instructor Training course is limited to 12 participants. You receive personal, comprehensive instruction as well as a complete instructor package of materials. You also join a supportive team of passionate parent educators serving the tri-county area, RCB South Florida and an international team, the International Network for Children and Families led by Kathryn Kvols, author of the book and course.

For details on requirements, schedule, tuition and registration for the Redirecting Children's Behavior™ Instructor Training Course, please contact us:

Whole Hearted Parenting
Maggie Macaulay, MS Ed
maggie_macaulay@msn.com
954.483.8021

What RCB Instructors Say

"I love teaching Redirecting Children's Behavior because it has connected me to my deepest passion and has given me a powerful springboard to do what I love most. I love teaching RCB because it is and has been the MOST rewarding, fun, and life-giving adventure of my life." Jennifer Williams, Instructor in Livingston, Montana

"As instructors, we help parents nurture their children and give them critical thinking skills and the emotional intelligence they will need to be successful as adults. After taking RCB, parents feel more confident and embrace their parental responsibility with more joy." Delene Cole, Instructor in Tampa, Florida